What You Need to Know about Overdrafts

An overdraft occurs when you do not have enough money in your account to cover a transaction, but we will pay the items for you. We can cover your overdrafts in three different ways:

1. We offer Overdraft Protection, which will transfer funds from a savings account or another account linked to your checking accounts to pay overdrafts. There will be an overdraft transfer fee of $7.00 per transfer.
2. We also offer Courtesy Pay. If there are no funds available in any of the accounts linked to the checking account, Courtesy Pay will pay overdrafts up to $500.00. There will be a courtesy pay fee of $35 for each time we pay an overdraft. There is no limit on the total fees we can charge you for overdrawing your account.
3. Personal Line of Credit. It's an unsecured loan that provides overdraft protection. Credit will be given to qualified borrowers. If there are no funds available in any of the accounts linked to the checking account, the Line of Credit will pay overdrafts up to the allowable amount the member qualifies for. The Line of Credit will be accessed after the available share balance is depleted and before Courtesy Pay is accessed.

The following types of transactions are covered:

- Checks and other transactions made using our routing number and your checking account number
- Automatic bill payments
